KEY, AINSWORTH IN BITTER CLASH AT BEER HEARING

Action on Bill Deferred, But Personalities Between Mayor and Methodist Bishop Enliven Committee Meeting.

DRY FORCE LEADER TOLD TO 'SHUT UP'

Reuben Arnold Also Attacks Dry Law; Churchmen Cite Benefits of Prohibition Statute.

After a two-hour public hearing which was marked by spirited clashes between Mayor James E. Key and Bishop William M. Ainsworth and his dry followers, on the other, the house temperance committee voted Tuesday night to defer action until Thursday on the Cartridge bill to modify the bone dry law so as to permit 3.2 per cent beer.

The public hearing, which was held in the main dining room of the Wine-coff hotel and which was attended by a crowd which overflowed onto the mezzanine floor of the hotel, was stormy from start to finish, reaching a climax when the mayor, halted by Bishop Ainsworth, shouted to the Methodist prelate to "shut up and sit down."

Mr. Arnold, too, heckled by church groups appearing in opposition to the bill, brought a loud verbal attack upon him when he labelled the dry as "fanatics."

The committee voted to defer action in an executive session held at the close of the hearing. The action was taken in order that an amendment proposed by Mr. Arnold which would make the law effective only if the federal congress votes to permit beer may be studied by members of the committee and in order that all members of the group might have a chance to vote on it. Fifteen of the 31 members, including Representative Luther Still, one of Fulton county's two members of the committee, were absent.

New Firm Acquires Hunter & Co. Assets

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(P)—In accordance with reorganization plans announced a few months ago, the newly formed Southeastern Cottons, Inc., has acquired the business and assets of the Hunter Manufacturing and Commission Company, it was announced today by Howard E. Coffin, chairman of the new concern.

The Hunter company, which was reportedly the largest textile selling organization in the country, has been liquidated. Frederick Huff Payne, of Washington, D. C., assistant secretary of war, is president of the new company.

The executive committee includes James A. Chapman and J. C. Evans, of Spartanburg, S. C.; Donald Comer, Birmingham, Ala.; A. F. McKissick, Greenville, S. C.; Alfred Moore, of Wellford, S. C.; George W. Mountcastle, Lexington, N. C.; John W. Porter, Rockingham, N. C.; Richard E. Reeves, Summit, N. J.; James C. Self, Greenwood, S. C.; Elliott White Springs, Fort Mill, S. C.; and George M. Wright, Great Falls, N. C.

The new company is controlled by member mills, and, according to Coffin, products of those mills heretofore handled by the Hunter company will now be merchandised by the new company.

FLAT $3 TAG RATE IS GIVEN APPROVAL BY SENATE GROUP

Vote of 14 to 5 Favors
One-Price License; Passage by Senate and House Forecast.

By L. A. FARRELL.

Fading hopes for a flat $3 automobile tag fee were suddenly and unexpectedly revived late Tuesday afternoon when the senate committee on motor vehicles voted, 14 to 5, to recommend to its body passage of the $3 bill after it had been substituted by a 10-to-8 vote for the $3-to-$15 measure already passed by the house.

Advocates of the flat $3 rate said after the meeting of the committee that they were confident that the senate would adopt the substitute for the house measure and that the house also would approve it.

Governor Eugene Talmadge, who campaigned on a platform calling for a $3 tag, said he was highly pleased with the action of the committee and that he was "hopeful" that the measure would be finally adopted.

Representative Roy Harris, of Richmond county, floor leader in the house and author of the first $3 tag bill offered in that body, said Tuesday night that he felt the house would accept the $3 tag if the senate approved the measure.

"I believe there are a large number of representatives who have changed their minds since they voted to substitute the sliding scale for my $3 bill," Harris said. "I believe that the senate committee will accept the $3 bill the house will accept it."

The senate committee bill also provides for a $3 tag on trucks up to one and a half tons and for a tag for trucks of the price of tags for trucks of a heavier tonnage.

Cigaret Tax Fight.

The approval of the $3 tag plan shifted interest Tuesday with the action of the house ways and means committee in voting, 16 to 14, to report adversely a bill calling for continuation of the 20 per cent tax on cigarettes to pay pensions of Confederate veterans and their widows. Despite a long and stirring plea by the author of the bill, Representative J. Wesley Culpeper, of Fayette county, members of the committee, led by those from the tobacco growing areas of south Georgia, voted to submit the unfavorable report on the bill. A contest on the floor of the house was assured when Culpeper announced he would take the floor in opposition to acceptance of the adverse report. He said, however, that he would not be a party to submitting a minority report.

Charges By Sisk.

The senate committee amendment to the motor tag bill was offered by Senators Walter A. Sims, Atlanta, 35th; Robert W. Campbell, Covington, 34th, and J. M. Fudge, Colquitt, 38th. In addition to placing a flat rate on all passenger cars, it reduces the price of dealers' tags on passenger cars and trucks up to 11-2-ton capacity from $25 to $3.

Senator J. T. Sisk, of Elberton, 30th, charged that the house bill, without the Sims amendment, would penalize owners of second-hand cars weighing over 2,500 pounds. Sisk

BANKS' RETENTION OF FUNDS RAPPED AT R. F. C. INQUIRY

Congress May Take Steps
To Force Cash Into Productive Enterprise as Result of Revelations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(P)—

Action to force into productive enterprises millions of dollars loaned by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and now allegedly lying idle in the nation's bank vaults tonight became a prime subject of legislative speculation.

Congressional leaders were chary of comment but they were studying, nevertheless, the results of the opening session of an extensive investigation of R. F. C. loans to railroads which produced an accusation that the bankers have failed to fulfill their duty in which the chairman of the corporation's board and the investigating committee's chairman joined.

It was evoked by a discussion of loans to railroads to pay off their indebtedness to the banks. Atlee Pomerene, chairman of the corporation board, told the committee:

"I have a feeling that some of our larger banks are from 75 per cent to 110 per cent (for emphasis) liquid ought to play a larger part in financing the roads and meeting the loans as they mature. It is their duty to continue this financing. These banks, after getting all the money in the community, treat it as if were in cold storage."

Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, chairman of the committee, agreed and added some vigorous criticism of the Finance Corporation as well as asserting it had "fallen down badly" in its handling of the loans without a record of the condition of the banks. Couzens added:

"I have been unable to find any information as to where the money and industry got by paying these bank loans."

"I agree the banks have not done their duty," Pomerene replied. "And you have not compelled them to, though you had the power," said Couzens.

Pomerene said that possibly in some cases the loans should not have been made, but that it was a matter of opinion, and challenged Couzens to the basis for these investigations, and to force the banks to "do their duty."

Couzens cited the law creating the R. F. C., and its loan must be to the aid of commerce, industry or agriculture.

In response to questions from Couzens, Pomerene, in a voice hoarse as he barely audible, Pomerene said that up to January 28 the corporation had authorized loans to 2,300 open banks and 500 which since have closed.

The corporation, up to January 8, had authorized loans of $939,640,271 to open banks and $80,262,275 to banks that have since closed, the corporation chairman testified, adding that he could not say how much of this was actually advanced.

He told the committee $66,957,899 of the loans to banks which have closed was still outstanding but said he believed these "advances" were practically secured so the loss will be inconsequential.

Senator Wagner, democrat, New York, asked Pomerene his opinion of the advisability of enacting such a resolution as the one Couzens has pending before the committee—and is the basis for these investigations, and calling for suspension of all loans to railroads.

"It would be a mistake," Pomerene replied. "My position and I think it reflects the views of all members of the board, is that if there is no other possible way of financing the roads."

Ex-Fire Capt. Clayton Arrested as Burglar

Former Fire Captain Roy V. Clayton, 45, who recently was cleared of charges of murdering his brother, C. Clayton, was arrested late Tuesday night on a charge of burglary after he had been captured in the grocery store of W. A. Dodgins at 228 Simpson street, S. W., according to police reports. He is being held by police without bond.

Clayton, a veteran member of the fire department, was discovered in a store late Tuesday night, Tuesday by Patrolmen B. W. Manard and R. L. Moseley. He had a basket of groceries in his hands, officers said, and told them he was only taking enough food to last him until he could find another job. He surrendered without resistance. Clayton was arrested 10 days ago on a charge of being drunk, and Tuesday night was at liberty under suspending sentence. He resides at 442 McAffee street.

It is a lesson in patience and self-control, and from it one obtains the satisfying interest of seeing something take form before one of the largest throngs ever to gather in a downtown department store.

Appearing at the invitation of the officers of the Tullulah Falls Industrial school, Mrs. Roosevelt spoke extemporaneously, giving more of a neighborly chat than a formal address, and recalling its narrative form and develop-grow into a semblance at least of something striven for."

In describing her own experiences in New York in getting the community interested in handicraft work as a method of occupational rehabilitation, Mrs. Roosevelt enumerated the difficulties to be overcome in many instances in getting under way such a movement.

Leadership at Odds Over 10,000 Names To Be on
G. O. P. Plan for Immediate Paper; City Employees
Hold Protest Meeting.

By CECIL B. DICKSON.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(P)—The house democratic leadership was undecided and at odds tonight over what to do about the republican-supported proposal to raise tariffs to meet depreciated foreign currencies.

Meanwhile, the senate chamber rang with a demand for immediate action on the legislation.

Within a few hours after he had announced the democrats would caucus tomorrow with a view to uniting against the legislation at this session, Representative Rainey, of Illinois, the majority leader, said they had "temporarily abandoned" the plan.

This second action was taken, said Rainey, a leading candidate for the speakership of the next house, with the understanding that the speaker, Collier, and Rainey had agreed with the democratic members of the ways and means committee on the measure.

With his refusal, he whipped out the democratic members of the committee, including Representative Hill, of Washington, an advocate of the legislation, along with other incoming democrats from western states.

"It's a matter of prudence," the veteran Illinois democrat explained. "We decided to wait until the ways

Ex-Georgian Shoots Senate Clamps Limit Wife, Attempts Suicide On Members' Speeches

FORT HOYLE, Md., Jan. 31.—(P)—A Fort Hoyle corporal today shot and seriously wounded his bride of six months and then turned the pistol on himself, inflicting injuries that may prove fatal.

The shooting took place in the kitchen of Brigadier General Ernest D. Scott's home, where the wife was employed as a maid. General Scott is post commander.

Army officials said the wife, Bina Sims, 19, a native of Tacoma, Wash., recently had refused to see her husband, Clarence H. Sims, and had ordered him not to come to her living quarters in the general's home.

Today, Sims, 33, a native of Athens, Ga., asked her to "talk things over," but she again refused.

DRIVE TO LIGHTEN MORTGAGE BURDEN GAINS MOMENTUM

More Insurance Companies Suspend Foreclosures as Washington Leaders Seek Action.

TALMADGE SEEKS FORECLOSURE STAY

Commenting on reports from New York which said that some insurance companies were showing "leniency" regarding farm mortgages, Governor Eugene Talmadge said Tuesday that he had been negotiating with several companies with a view toward obtaining the same consideration on Georgia mortgages.

"This is no time for foreclosures," the governor said. Mr. Talmadge returned Tuesday from a week-end trip to Miami in company with Wiley Moore, Atlanta oil man.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 31.—(P)—American farmers, debt-ridden with prices now 51 per cent of the pre-war level, for the most part back today while federal and state governments, along with big business, accelerated plans for their relief.

Heretofore active in preventing tax sales and mortgage foreclosures, farmers throughout the country today awaited action which their cries for assistance had precipitated.

From Washington, New York City and various home cities of insurance companies and the state legislatures came reports of speeded effort to ease financial pains of mortgage-distressed farmhands.

One farm sale only was halted during the day at Tuscola, Ill., a group of farmers chose a representative of a mortgage holder off a farm when he attempted to raise bids on the property. Otherwise, attention centered on those who have been asked for relief.

Chief developments.

Principal of the day's developments included:

1.—At Washington a senate committee pushed hearings on the domestic allotment bill by its back to the cure for farmers' plight. Before the senate banking subcommittee Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, urged, for a report on his "emergency" farm credit measure, he suggested "farm foreclosure should be suspended temporarily pending enactment of more permanent farm relief legislation."

2.—From New York, the country's money center, came word that the New York Life Insurance Company had suspended farm foreclosure activities in Iowa until the legislature can enact its program to improve the position of its debtors.

3.—Other insurance companies, following the lead of the New York institution, issued statements they would use the utmost leniency in dealing with the farmers until legislative action had been devised. Four companies at Hartford, Conn., the Prudential of Newark, N. J., and all the large Iowa companies announced they had temporarily suspended foreclosures at the request of Governor Clyde L. Herring, of Iowa, pending legislative aid.

4.—The Minnesota legislature requested Governor Olson to issue a proclamation asking creditors and mortgagors to refrain from foreclosure during the present crisis. The legislature asked a proclamation similar to the one by Governor Herring. The resolution was sent to the senate judiciary committee, with request for hasty action.

5.—Arkansas joined the states active in pushing relief when its senate passed a measure calling for a mortgage moratorium. The bill suspends jurisdiction of circuit and chancery courts in mortgage foreclosure proceedings involving any

Corliss Palmer Fights Hospital Attendants

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 31.—(P)—Corliss Palmer, former "Mac" Ga. girl, and estranged wife of Eugene Brewster, former Hollywood screen magazine publisher, was removed from a San Francisco hotel tonight and held at a detention hospital in a semi-conscious condition.

She was said to have fought with nurses who attempted to treat her, and it was necessary to restrain her with leather handcuffs.

Dr. J. C. Geiger, city health officer, diagnosed the case of Miss Palmer as "acute alcoholism and bad liquor."

Arkansas House Beats Move To Oust University President and Teachers

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 31.—(P)—The Arkansas house today decisively defeated a resolution aimed at ousting President John C. Futrell, of the University of Arkansas, and criticizing foreign-born members of the faculty.

The resolution, proposed by Representatives Grant, of Jackson, and Smith, of Randolph, was debated for an hour and on a roll vote rejected, 51 to 59.

President Futrell and five foreign-born professors were vigorously defended by former students of the university in the house and the language of the resolution branded as "insulting to the intelligence of the house and the people of the country as a whole."

FATAL OUTBURSTS MARK FIRST DAY OF HITLER REGIME

Four Killed, Many Hurt in Rioting Provoked by Nazi's Succession to Chancellorship.

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—(P)—Adolf Hitler's appointment to the chancellorship precipitated renewed outbursts of political violence today in which four persons were killed and at least 35 injured.

The new fascist government, however, appeared to have weathered threats of a general strike.

The Nazi leader's first day at the head of the reich was marked by negotiations designed to win for him the tolerance of the 70 members of the centrist party in the reichstag, who would give him a majority and pave the way for constitutional rule.

Tomorrow the cabinet will reply to written questions on its policy submitted by Dr. Ludwig Kaas, centrist leader. The decision of the center will be determined by these answers.

One of Hitler's old promises came home to him today. The Federation of War Wounded sent him a message demanding that he make good on his promise to restore disabled veterans' relief, which was cut under the emergency decrees of previous governments.

Communist Slain.

One of the day's sanguinary political brawls occurred in Breslau, where a communist was killed and two Nazis were stabbed in a street fight.

Eight persons were sent to a hospital in Pforzheim, in the province of Baden, with dagger, club and revolver wounds suffered when parading steel helmets and Nazis fought with communists.

Six persons were injured at Moers when a fusillade of bullets was discharged on rightist paraders.

Berlin police confiscated communist handbills which again urged a general strike. Two communist newspapers in Essen and Leipzig were suppressed, authorities charging that they had printed articles encouraging a strike.

At Wuppertal national socialists attacked a trade union building, and there was pistol firing, which was repelled by police.

In Leipzig, Nazis stormed the town hall, ripping down the flag of the republic and replacing it with the Hitlerite flag.

In Berlin a policeman and a Nazi were killed, 12 persons were injured and 50 arrested.

One of the outstanding Berlin demonstrations was a tumultuous march by uniformed Nazi students through the city's "Wall Street."

About 500 of them paraded past the houses of the city's leading financiers, shouting epithets at the members of the exchange.

"Profiteers!" was one of the terms they used.

Manifestations against the Nazis also occurred in Dusseldorf, Halle, Schweinfurt, Offenbach and Hirschberg, accounting for a score of major and minor casualties.

A communist demand for a general strike won little support. Handbills urging open revolt, issued by the party, were seized in Magdeburg; and in Department Head Says He Wants His Innocence Established by Grand Jury; Matthews Accepts Resignation.

OUSTED OFFICERS SCORE DISMISSAL

Young, Turner, Coop, Ford Fired Outright. Ralph Abercrombie Allowed to Resign.

County Commissioner C. A. Matthews Tuesday night said A. W. Lilly, chief of DeKalb county police, had resigned, and that he had given five other county officers the privilege of resigning or "being discharged."

One of the officers, Ralph Abercrombie, accepted the offer of resignation. Matthews said, "and I have discharged the other four."

The resignation of Abercrombie and the discharge of G. T. Young, P. N. Turner, E. Cooper and C. P. Ford were effective "as of tonight," the commissioner said.

Letter of Dismissal.

In his letter to the four dismissed officers, Commissioner Matthews said:

"It having been reported to me that you carried to your home and used a 100-pound sack of sugar seized at a raid made by officers upon a still at the house of W. E. Hartley, and you having admitted to me that you did this, it is my opinion that you should not further perform the duties of a police officer of the county. I feel that an officer clothed with authority to arrest and prosecute other persons for violating the law should himself respect and observe the law."

"You are therefore, hereby notified that you are discharged from the DeKalb county police force as of this date. You are requested to turn in to me such property of the county as may be in your possession."

New York and Chicago Granted Relief Funds

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(P)—Funds for the needy in the nation's two most populous centers were provided today by the Reconstruction Corporation, which voted $80,000 for New York and $60,000 for Illinois.

In addition, it approved loans of $412,700 for Dayton and Toledo, Ohio, and $29,970 for five Montana counties. The money is to meet relief needs for the month of February.

Most of the Illinois money allotted today was allocated to Chicago, that city receiving $5,452,000. Chicago received $6,700,000 for use in January.

The New York loan will be distributed in 42 of the 115 relief districts of the state, and presumably a large proportion of it will go to New York city.

CHIEF LILLY QUILTS POST IN DECATUR

as counsel for the wife of O. B. Wright, DeKalb county bootlegger who took out a possessory warrant against Chief Lilly, Officers Turner, Ford, Cooper and Young issued a statement in which they asserted that Lilly had ordered each of them to take a sack of sugar seized in the liquor raid home for his own use.

"He was our superior officer," the statement of the dismissed policeman said, "and we thought he had the right to give us this sugar if he wished to dispose of it in this way."

Asks Jury Investigation. With his resignation Chief Lilly asked a grand jury investigation of accusations that he ransacked a home in a liquor raid.

Attorneys for Lilly said the chief resigned voluntarily "without suggestion or pressure from anyone and for the best interests of the county."

The withdrawal of the five policemen came as an aftermath of testimony given in the trial of the chief for confiscating property of Mrs. O. B.

Wright during a liquor raid, and in which the five policemen gave testimony against their superior officer. They declined to discuss the case Tuesday night.

Former Chief Lilly's resignation was in the form of a letter written to the commissioner and said it was his desire to have his complete innocence of charges established by the grand jury which will meet in March. Mr. Matthews said in accepting the resignation that he agreed that officers should be free of criticism and accusation.

Letter From Lilly. Lilly's resignation follows:

"Dear Mr. Matthews: "Realizing that in order for the DeKalb county police department to properly perform its functions of assisting the courts in enforcing the laws, the department must at all times have the complete confidence of the public, and realizing further that in the present possessory warrant proceeding brought against me, charges were made which were not finally definitely or fairly disposed of in the outcome of the proceeding, instituted, and also bearing in mind that these charges have put in jeopardy the integrity of the county and your administration, I feel that I should subordinate my personal interests to that of the county. "I desire that the grand jury investigate these charges in order that the innocence may be established. "The next session of the grand jury is in March. I feel that the best interest of the county would be served by my withdrawal from the service until these charges are investigated so that the jury of the county may not feel that they are called upon to try defendants upon the testimony of an officer whose conduct is under investigation.

"I do not wish to cause you or your administration any embarrassment or unjust criticism on account of my remaining in office.

"I think that a word of explanation is appropriate as to the hearing of last week. I was served with a possessory warrant. Instead of the proceeding being held on a civil case, I was made the object of spite and criticism, not only by self-confessed and convicted criminals but also by their attorneys and judges. I am not a seeker. It was brought out in the hearing that certain of my officers were in possession of articles formerly alleged to have been in the Wright home and certain of my and other officers had taken a sack of sugar from the Hartleys, but none of the alleged articles were in my possession. I am not guilty of any of the accusations made against me and feel that I will be exonerated when given a fair and lawful hearing.

"I therefore, tender you my resignation as chief of DeKalb county police until these charges are thoroughly and fairly investigated. My resignation to take effect immediately.

"Very truly yours, "A. W. LILLY, "Chief, DeKalb County Police."

The civil case against Lilly attracted wide attention during the three-day hearing last week and evidence introduced to show that more than 100 articles and who has shown no desire nor inclination to protect the interests of the people whom he was sworn to serve.

Matthews' Statement. Commissioner Matthews, in accepting the resignation of Lilly, said: "I agree with Chief Lilly's statement that law enforcing officers should themselves be free of criticisms and accusations. I would have preferred that the grand jury settle the matter before action was taken, but since they will not meet before March I do not think your department should function during that interval with these charges and accusations pending. I feel sure that the next grand jury will investigate and settle the charges. I, therefore, in the meantime, accept his resignation.

Representative A. Neil Turner, a member of the DeKalb county delegation in the house of representatives, said Tuesday that he drafted a bill putting the DeKalb county police system under control of the sheriff. He said the bill would be introduced in the house in a day or two.

Commenting on his bill, Representative Turner said: "DeKalb county is proud of the record of its sheriff's office and we never hear a complaint about it. We have been hearing discordant notes about the county police for such a long time that I am convinced that department would be much better off if the sheriff controlled it."

The four ousted officers issued the following statement after the meeting Tuesday night: "To the Citizens of DeKalb County: "We, the undersigned members of the DeKalb county police, having just received from Mr. C. A. Matthews, commissioner of roads and revenues, a letter notifying us of our discharge, desire to make this statement in order that the people whom we have sought to serve may know the exact facts of our discharge.

"In the first place we call attention to the fact that Commissioner Matthews bases his order of discharge upon the acceptance by us of certain sugar which was confiscated in a raid.

"In this connection we wish to state that when the raid was made and the sugar seized we asked Chief Lilly what disposition should be made of the sugar, to which he replied that each of us should take a sack of sugar for his own use. He was our superior officer and we felt that we should subordinate our personal interests to that of the county. "We therefore, tender you our resignation as members of the DeKalb county police until these charges are thoroughly and fairly investigated. My resignation to take effect immediately.

"Very truly yours, "A. W. LILLY, "Chief, DeKalb County Police."

The civil case against Lilly attracted wide attention during the three-day hearing last week and evidence introduced to show that more than 100 articles and who has shown no desire nor inclination to protect the interests of the people whom he was sworn to serve.

Matthews' Statement. Commissioner Matthews, in accepting the resignation of Lilly, said: "I agree with Chief Lilly's statement that law enforcing officers should themselves be free of criticisms and accusations. I would have preferred that the grand jury settle the matter before action was taken, but since they will not meet before March I do not think your department should function during that interval with these charges and accusations pending. I feel sure that the next grand jury will investigate and settle the charges. I, therefore, in the meantime, accept his resignation.

Representative A. Neil Turner, a member of the DeKalb county delegation in the house of representatives, said Tuesday that he drafted a bill putting the DeKalb county police system under control of the sheriff. He said the bill would be introduced in the house in a day or two.

Commenting on his bill, Representative Turner said: "DeKalb county is proud of the record of its sheriff's office and we never hear a complaint about it. We have been hearing discordant notes about the county police for such a long time that I am convinced that department would be much better off if the sheriff controlled it."

The four ousted officers issued the following statement after the meeting Tuesday night: "To the Citizens of DeKalb County: "We, the undersigned members of the DeKalb county police, having just received from Mr. C. A. Matthews, commissioner of roads and revenues, a letter notifying us of our discharge, desire to make this statement in order that the people whom we have sought to serve may know the exact facts of our discharge.

"In the first place we call attention to the fact that Commissioner Matthews bases his order of discharge upon the acceptance by us of certain sugar which was confiscated in a raid.

"In this connection we wish to state that when the raid was made and the sugar seized we asked Chief Lilly what disposition should be made of the sugar, to which he replied that each of us should take a sack of sugar for his own use. He was our superior officer and we feel that I should subordinate my personal interests to that of the county. "I desire that the grand jury investigate these charges in order that the innocence may be established. "The next session of the grand jury is in March. I feel that the best interest of the county would be served by my withdrawal from the service until these charges are investigated so that the jury of the county may not feel that they are called upon to try defendants upon the testimony of an officer whose conduct is under investigation.

"I do not wish to cause you or your administration any embarrassment or unjust criticism on account of my remaining in office.

"I think that a word of explanation is appropriate as to the hearing of last week. I was served with a possessory warrant. Instead of the proceeding being held on a civil case, I was made the object of spite and criticism, not only by self-confessed and convicted criminals but also by their attorneys and judges. I am not a seeker. It was brought out in the hearing that certain of my officers were in possession of articles formerly alleged to have been in the Wright home and certain of my and other officers had taken a sack of sugar from the Hartleys, but none of the alleged articles were in my possession. I am not guilty of any of the accusations made against me and feel that I will be exonerated when given a fair and lawful hearing.

thought he had the right to give us this sugar if he wished to dispose of it in this way. We took it and thought nothing more of it until a possessory warrant was taken out against Chief Lilly by Mrs. O. B. Wright for the recovery of a large number of personal articles which had been taken from her home by Chief Lilly and at his direction. When this warrant was served upon Lilly he denied us in and stated to us that the question of the confiscated sugar would probably come up, and stated that so far as he was concerned he knew nothing about any sugar. For the first time we were made to realize that he had no right to give us the sugar, as had been done, and we told him that if the matter came up and we were placed on the stand we would tell the truth about it. He told us in effect that if we did it would probably cost us our jobs.

After this conversation one of the officers of the county police, Mr. Matthews and told him what Lilly had stated. Mr. Matthews at that time stated that Mr. Ford should tell the truth. We did tell the truth, and Mr. Matthews promptly discharged us.

We are informed that there will be a thorough investigation of this and other matters concerning other departments of our county at the March term of the grand jury. We stand ready, willing and anxious to appear and to defend our own character and to tell the whole truth regardless of who it affects.

"In taking leave of our duties as officers of this county, we want the people to know that during the entire time we have served in this capacity we have tried to render conscientious and faithful service to the citizens of this county, notwithstanding the fact that we have been seriously handicapped by the attitude and instructions of A. W. Lilly, our superior officer, who has no regard for the rights of the people and who has shown no desire nor inclination to protect the interests of the people whom he was sworn to serve.

Dresden the communist newspaper, Rote Fahne, was suppressed.

The four largest labor federations, ranging in politics from socialist to democratic, issued a proclamation counselling caution.

"Don't let yourselves be rushed into premature harmful acts," the proclamation said. "To ward off attacks upon the constitution and the rights of the people, if that is necessary, cool heads and caution are needed."

At the request of Chancellor Hitler, the centrists put in writing the questions they wished cleared up by the new administration. These concerned whether the government intended to proclaim a state of emergency, whether a constitutional regime in Prussia would be restored, whether the cabinet proposed to leave fixed wages untouched, and other social welfare issues.

Late tonight the cabinet adjourned until tomorrow morning. Among other questions discussed at the session were the reorganization of the labor ministry with a special committee to settle wage questions and the reissuance of an emergency decree naming Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen commissar for Prussia. The ministers were not officially notified of the anti-government demonstrations by communists.

While the cabinet was meeting, Dr. Wilhelm Frick, Nazi minister of interior, formally took over the presidency of a plenary session of the reichstag, in which he used to sit as representative of Thuringia.

Broadly outlining the new government's program, Dr. Frick said its tasks would be to make the reich a solid front to the outside world. He realized, he said, the necessity of leaving the different German states considerable latitude, especially in the matter of education, while at the same time keeping them firmly welded on a federalistic basis.

A strong government now has taken the reins for the weal of the entire reich, Dr. Frick asserted. He announced that Chancellor Hitler would introduce himself to the reichstag on Thursday.

SHAKE-UP ORDERED BY POLICE CHIEF

Patrolmen, Detectives,
Traffic Men Are Shifted
About in Department.

One of the most sweeping shake-ups in recent history ordered by Chief T. O. Sturdivant Tuesday, rearranged the duties of patrolmen, detectives, traffic men, officers and policemen in the Atlanta police department and came in "the interest of efficiency and economy," the chief said.

Special orders from the chief's office created a special night shift of detectives which gives Atlanta 24 hours of plainclothes protection. The women's bureau force was cut exactly in half when Mrs. Mamie Baxter and Mrs. J. B. Howell were dropped. Veteran detectives placed in uniform and assigned to beats were Pat Campbell, W. W. Ford, D. D. Evans, A. D. Sturdivant and R. H. Hollingsworth. Those assigned to find detective vacancies were S. D. Vaughn, Dick Engle, E. S. Acree, Lieutenant M. A. Hornsby, who has been serving as radio officer, was assigned as station lieutenant of the morning watch. Thomas H. Jeffries, former court bailiff, was assigned as turnkey of the evening watch. In order to divide the women's bureau officers equally, the chief assigned Mrs. J. C. Davis to the day watch, while Mrs. W. T. Hammond, who formerly acted as stenographer in the bureau, was transferred to the detective department. J. E. Chandler, formerly a clerk in the detective bureau, was assigned to uniform duty. Several other officers were shifted in line with the change.

DIRIGIBLE PLANT SITE IS SOUGHT IN SOUTH

Roland B. Respass, of Providence, R. I., is at present visiting several southern cities in an effort to find a suitable manufacturing site for dirigibles. Mr. Respass, a former Atlantan, is a brother of James L. and Thomas S. Respass, of this city. Climatic conditions in the south, it is believed, will prove favorable to the manufacture of dirigibles, it was said, because hangers in the north must have strength to withstand heavy snow loads and also must be heated.

High Museum Plans Unique Display Of Life, Scenes on Ocean's Floor

Atlanta art patrons, naturalists and scientists will get the first public view of an undersea art collection during February at the High Museum of Art, where hang 26 oil paintings by Christians, executed at depths ranging from 20 to 300 feet under the sea. L. P. Skidmore, director of the museum, said the exhibit would be the first time undersea paintings have been shown publicly in America.

The collection is regarded as among the finest of expedition work. It is the property of the American Museum of Natural History and is unique in

Ralph Isham, Famous Collector, Talks Here of Johnson, Boswell

By RALPH MCGILL.
When Dr. Samuel Johnson was holding forth in the Cheviot house at London, eating meat pie, there was always James Boswell there to be scolded, berated, abused and praised. James Boswell, who was "somewhat afraid of himself and who wasn't happy at home, knew that the world was interested in what great men said. And he believed Samuel Johnson, the greatest literary figure of the last years of the sixteenth century, to be a great man.

There were others. It was the age of Edmund Burke, Thomas Gray and other notables of that age. And from the attraction of what great men said, came sparkling comments. And Boswell put them all down in his diary, rambling but thorough style. He wrote more than 2,000,000 words in long hand, did Boswell, despite the fact he was a thoroughly lazy man.

And yesterday afternoon, at Emory, Colonel Ralph Isham, who owns all the known original writings of James Boswell, lectured on the subject he knows better than any man in the world. Colonel Isham and Boswell's writings. Those who heard him found themselves transported back to Boswell's days. Colonel Isham knows his subject so well that one feels that he was an intimate friend of Boswell. He seems to know his every thought.

A collection of Johnsonia, begun in years ago, is now the most complete in the world and is one of the most valuable literary collections in the world.

Louisiana Vote Probe To Be Opened Friday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Chairman Howell, republican, Nebraska, of the senate's special committee on Louisiana, today announced hearings of the committee in the Broussard-Overtone democratic senatorial primary contest would be started in New Orleans at 10 a. m., Friday.
Senator Broussard is contesting his defeat for the democratic nomination by Representative Overtone, the latter supported by Senator Huey P. Long.
Broussard, who yesterday told the senate he would answer today Long's denial of charges involving him in the contested election, was slightly ill at his home here today and unable to attend the session.
At his office, it was said the senator probably would be on the floor tomorrow.

EXPENSES ARE SLASHED BY EXAMINING BOARDS

Expenses of nine of the state examining boards were cut from a total of $30,882.92 in 1931 to $24,426.38 in 1932, according to the annual report of John B. Wilson, secretary of state, filed Tuesday with Governor Talmadge. The report shows that $3,500 was saved in the 1932 apportionment for the constitutional division of the office, and that $3,752.54 in fees were remitted to the state treasury.
The secretary of state registered 4,405 corporations, of which 3,135 were domestic and 1,270 foreign, during the year. Expenses of the securities division for 1932 were $1,008.21 less than in 1931. Savings of the office during the year from salary reductions amounted to $2,718.50. A total of 16,592 persons registered as being engaged in professions and trades regulated by the examining boards.

STRAUSS SHOOTING MOTIVE IS SOUGHT

Few Clues Available as Police Launch Hunt for Mysterious Assailant.

Handcapped by lack of a logical motive for an attempt upon the life of Leo G. Strauss, 49, police of two counties were continuing their search for the man who leaped upon the running board of the prominent businessman's auto in Druid Hills Monday night and shot him through the right side. Emory University hospital, where the wounded man was taken for treatment, reported that the pistol shot caused only a flesh wound and that the patient's condition was good.

Suspected of knowing something of the shooting, a man who gave the name of David W. Kennedy, an unemployed carpenter, convinced police Tuesday morning that he had no connection with the affair and he was released after questioning.

With only a general description of the assailant to work on, police were stymied. Mr. Strauss said he could think of a motive for an attempt upon his life and that the gunman failed to make clear why he shot him.

First reports that Mr. Strauss was shot, Mr. Strauss said, he was threatened with death, though no reason was offered. After he drove several blocks in search of a policeman, Mr. Strauss said, the assailant fired while the car was in motion on Ponce de Leon avenue, between Moreland avenue and was discovered by a passerby, who drove the car to the residence of Mr. Strauss' brother-in-law, Herbert J. Haas, of 1075 Lullwater road. From there he was taken to Emory University hospital.

Mr. Strauss is president and secretary of Frances Frocks Inc., and is the brother of David Strauss, vice president and treasurer of Rich's Inc.

Warm, Showery Day To Usher in February

After one of the warmest Januaries on record, Atlanta can look for cloudy skies, warmer temperatures, and probably rain to usher in February today, according to George Mindling, United States meteorologist.

The skies this morning will be cloudy, and rising temperatures probably will bring occasional light showers during the afternoon, Mr. Mindling said. The lowest temperature will be about 45 degrees and the mercury may slide up as high as 65 degrees, he said.

Tuesday the lowest recorded temperature was 40 degrees and the maximum 50 degrees. It was said Tuesday that the normal temperature for Atlanta during January ranges from 42 to 45 degrees, but that the mercury slid into the 60's so many times this past month that the average January day in 1933 was better than 50 degrees. This is the third warmest January on record here. The record was established by 1880 with a daily average of 54 degrees. In January, 1932, the average daily temperature was 51.2 degrees.

"JUG" BAND ARRIVES FOR 10-DAY STAY

Ballard and Ballard's famous Chefs Jug band arrived in Atlanta on Tuesday, and will give a series of concerts here for the next 10 days.
This band is sponsored by the makers of Obelisk flour, who have large mills at Louisville, and is considered one of the finest aggregation of musicians in the south.
Today the band will be heard at two Piggly Wiggly stores—at 2293 Peachtree road from 11 to 11:30 o'clock, and at 811 Gordon street, from noon to 12:30 o'clock.
Beginning Thursday evening, the band will play at the S. & W. Cafeteria for a week, appearing from 6 to 6:30 o'clock and from 7 to 7:30. This is the first public appearance of the band.

In commemoration of the birthday of Richard Allen, founder of the union, and the 175th anniversary of the African Methodist Episcopal church.
Programs have been arranged throughout the week at various colored churches in the city, and in each incident will have to do with the work carried on by Richard Allen in his lifetime.

Why Children's Colds are best treated externally...

A child's stomach is delicate, and constant dosing often leads to a digestive upset.
Besides, "dosing" is indirect treatment for a cold. Too often, it does actual harm—spoils appetite and lowers body strength when it is most needed to resist disease.

For these reasons, mothers the world over prefer Vicks VapoRub, the modern treatment for children's colds. VapoRub is external—you just rub it on! It can be used freely—and as often as needed—even on the youngest child. Absolutely safe—and doubly effective!

ATTACKS COLD 2 WAYS AT ONCE

Applied over throat and chest at bedtime,
Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster. At the same time, soothing medicated vapors are released by body-warmth and inhaled direct to irritated air-passages. The child relaxes—sleeps soundly—and usually by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Nothing else gives this unique direct double-action of VapoRub. Nothing else gives the same sure relief. Two generations of mothers have tested and proved Vicks VapoRub as best for children's colds. Over 26 million jars are used yearly.

FOR DEEP-SEATED COLD

Stronger Stimulative Action—When there is much tightness or soreness, reddened skin with hot, wet towels before applying VapoRub—then spread it on thick.

Stronger Vapor Action—When the air-passages are badly clogged—or there is much irritation or coughing—also melt a spoonful of VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors for several minutes.

FURTHER SOLUTION OF MOTHERS' PROBLEM OF COLD

VapoRub is the foundation of the new Vicks Plan for better Control of Colds. In clinical tests among thousands last winter—in schools, colleges and homes—Vicks Plan reduced the number and duration of colds by half!—saved almost two-thirds of time lost from school due to colds!—cut the costs of colds more than half!
How to follow Vicks Colds-Control Plan in your home is fully explained in each package of Vicks VapoRub and Vicks Nose & Throat Drops

Coach Alexander Will Fight Change in Forward Pass Rule

Tutl Tutl Threats Like These Won't Scare Cracker Fans!

It's a funny yarn which Dan Parker prints in his New York column—about the anger of two Brooklyn officials when they discovered that Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson, now president of the Atlanta Crackers, had named a couple of his Dover Hall geese after the two Brooklyn officials. "And," says Parker, "the officials say they will make Robby play the two geese in the outfield this season." And the Cracker fans answer that after some of the outfielders the Crackers have had geese will be a pleasure.

Jack (The Ripper) Roberts, former Georgia football star, is considering entering the wrestling game. He was in to see Henry Weber Tuesday and talked over the prospects. It involves, if he decides to have a try, a visit to New York for many months of training.

Coco Kid, who is to get a fight in Madison Square Garden, is an Atlanta colored boy whose rise to the top group has been remarkably fast. Just a few months ago he was fighting in Cleve Roby's battles in Atlanta for five and six dollars a fight—and less. Blind Kid Davis, who gets all the clippings about Coco Kid (who was Lew Hardwick), says he is another Tiger Flowers.

Next Tuesday will be Babe Ruth's birthday. He will be 39 years old. He has $400,000 in the bank and in two years will have an income of $2,000 per month. Will all the famous people born in February please let me know if they have that much?

New York reports that Andy Kerr, of Colgate, has been signed to coach N. Y. U. for 1934. Which means that N. Y. U. is tiring of its noble experiment.

At least two other golf clubs in Atlanta will try the eight-inch cups. And the question naturally arises what will happen if they keep increasing the size of the cup and the ball. They already play push ball at Emory.

Southern league baseball owners provided for a split season, in the event the race is one-sided. They should have provided for lower prices, because the fans are going to hold out as sure as gun is iron. There won't be a great deal of difference in opening day crowds.

Chick Roos, business manager of the Cracker club, is planning some important changes in concessions at the Cracker park. Which changes have been needed for years.

Dan Parker, of New York, reports that some of those who still have it, are taking exercises to develop enough back bone to resist touches.

MEHRE WANTS ONE RULE CHANGE.
Harry Mehre, head coach at Georgia, who will go to the New York meeting of the football rules committee, will recommend the abolishment of the out-of-bounds play.

Otherwise—let the rules stay as they are.
"Statistics show that 12 per cent of the average 150 plays in a football game are out-of-bounds plays," said Mehre. "That is too much. The proposal to bring the ball in 15 yards every time it gets within 15 feet of the sideline is a good one. It will mean more plays for the spectator. It will therefore make the game more attractive to the people who pay to see it. There is no strategy about it. A team is forced to waste a play."
Mehre joins Coach Alexander, of Tech, in opposing the rule proposed whereby a pass may be made from any point back of the line.

THE NEXT ASSISTANT PAYS.
Word from Michigan is that Rex Enright, backfield coach at Georgia, is being favorably considered by Michigan State authorities as head coach along with Chet Wynne, of Auburn, and Charley Bachman, of Florida.

This caused Harry Mehre to issue an ultimatum that the next assistant he has must be prepared to pay a substantial sum to the athletic fund for the job.
"It's just like buying life insurance," said Harry. "First there was Jimmy Crowley. He got a head coaching job. Then there was Frank Thomas. He went to Alabama as head coach. And now Rex has a great chance. I guess we'll have to charge the next one if Rex goes. It's a surefire step to a better position."

THOMAS HERE TODAY.
Frank Thomas, who is accompanying the Alabama basketball team on the tour to Georgia and Tech, will be in the city today for a visit with Coach Alexander.

Thomas, in two years at Alabama, has come through with two of the greatest finishes in the history of southern football. At midseason his team was apparently shot. It was on the ropes.

Few coaches, with a team in that condition, have been able to bring them back. Thomas put in some new material, gambled with it, and crushed the Vanderbilt team, which was rated a favorite. The Alabama team then traveled to the coast and defeated St. Mary's.

Thomas has now been branded with the Neyland curse. Each year the Major, up at Tennessee, picks one of his rivals as the team which will be the next champion. This year he picks Alabama. It has proved a jinx in the past.

Neyland, annually in possession of the best material in Dixie, likes his little joke. His 1933 team will be even better than the undefeated outfit of 1932.

STEAMING THEM UP.
That's a good yarn they tell about Stub Allison, the line coach at California. Last fall, before the St. Mary's game, he presented his line with tickets to the game.
"What are these for?" asked his line men.
"Why, they say St. Mary's will push you out of the stadium and you'll need these to get back in," said Allison.

The teams tied and California's line played heroically.

Clark Defeats Cardinals, 38 to 36

Clark University gave the Cincinnati Cardinals their second straight defeat in Atlanta with a 38-to-36 victory over the Ohio quintet Tuesday night at Sunset park. Morris Brown won a two-point victory over the Cardinals Monday night.

Big Ray Archer and Arnett, of Clark, and W. F. Ward, of the visitors, were outstanding in the game.

JACKETS MEET 'BAMA TONIGHT AT AUDITORIUM

Game Starts at 8:15 O'Clock; Freshmen Play at 7:15.

Tennessee Game Set for Saturday

Coach Roy Mundorf, announced last night that Tennessee, recent victor over Alabama, will meet Tech here Saturday night, instead of Friday. Tennessee, coached by Bill Britten, has one of the leading teams in the Southeastern conference, and will offer another strong test for the up-and-coming Jackets.

By Jack Troy.

Alabama's Red Regiment of the hardwood, coached by Hank Crisp, and Georgia Tech's fast-improving Jackets of Coach Roy Mundorf met tonight in a promising game of basketball at the Auditorium.

There will be a preliminary game starting at 7:15, with the Tech freshman five playing Canton High, a strong prep outfit. Tech and Alabama will take the court at 8:15.

Tech struck a fast stride against Georgia, conference champions last year, here last Saturday night, and in winning, 26 to 16, looked very impressive.

WORKS BOTH WAYS.
It's a proposition that works both ways, this meeting of Tech and Alabama. The Regiment will offer the Jackets a real test, and vice versa.

While admitting that Tech looked pretty good against Georgia, Coach Mundorf declared yesterday that "they could do better."

"We haven't looked so good in practice this week," Mundorf said, "and although it looks like the same team that started against Georgia will open against Alabama, there may be a change or two."

If the lineup remains the same the starting team will include Hugh Gooding and Leon Woodall, forwards; Dick Orr, center, and Roy McArthur and Johnny Pools, guards. Hank Crisp has been having his share of troubles this season at the Capstone. Franklin Nobles, a guard, failed to return to school after the first semester and "Dogg" Freeman, another guard, suffered a dislocated elbow in a recent practice.

KIMBROUGH GOOD.
The return of Zerk Kimbrough, one-handed push shot expert, helps the Regiment cause. Bob Cotton, who has been starting regularly, is being pushed for a regular position by Jim Walker, a fast sophomore. Both are six-footers.

Bauman, a six-foot center, is sure to open the game and give tall Dick Orr a battle for tip-off honors.

Ben Smith will be at guard with either Angelich or Rhordan. Tonight's game is certain to develop some of the keenest rivalry of the Atlanta season.

Alabama Beats Georgia, 33 to 23.
ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 31.—Alabama's crimson-clad basketball team put the pressure on in the opening minute of play and kept it on for the remainder of the game to hand the Georgia Bulldogs their fifth Southeastern conference defeat of the season here tonight. The score was 33 to 23.

Twirling like skyscrapers over the smaller Georgia team, the Crimson Tide took the lead at the start when Earl Bauman sent a field goal whizzing through the net. Virlyn Moore, one of the south's ace forwards, took it up a moment later with a field goal for Georgia. A moment later he made a free throw good to give Georgia the lead but it was only for a matter of seconds. Two free throws put the Tide ahead and there the boys stayed for the remainder of the game.

The slim, elongated Kimbrough was the evening's marksmen. He gathered 14 points for himself as he led his teammates to victory. Two of his four field goals were made from almost impossible angles. One was from near mid-court.

Although Alabama had a fairly good lead all during the game, Pound, O'Kelley and Moore combined to keep Georgia in the game during the first half. Alabama led at the half, 17-13.

Georgia came back strong after the first period and in a few minutes had drawn up to within two points of the big Red Elephants. The score was 22-20 shortly after the second began. And then Kimbrough, tall and fast on his feet, went into action. He obviously had made but one field goal. That two-point margin didn't look safe to him, so he started on a scoring rampage. Before Georgia could answer he had scored three field goals and three free throws for a total of nine points. Bauman, Tide center, was another big factor in the team's victory. In addition to scoring seven points, he invariably got the tip-off into the hands of his teammates.

Georgia will leave Athens Friday for a three-game road tour in Virginia and Maryland. The Bulldogs will play Maryland, Virginia and William and Mary before returning to Athens.

Frank Thomas, head football coach at Alabama, witnessed tonight's game. He will be in the city today for a visit with Coach Alexander.

CAMPBELL SAYS HE HAS NO IDEA OF CAR'S SPEED

Speed King Is Ready for Record Dash at Daytona Beach.

By Edward J. Neil,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Hol- loved-eyed from illness but casual and affable as ever, Sir Malcolm Campbell sailed into New York today for his fourth assault on the world's automobile speed record he set at 253.968 miles an hour on the tide-packed sands of Daytona Beach, Fla., last winter.

He bases his record hopes this time upon increased power but for the future he visions the development of a machine which, under favorable conditions, may move the world record for land speed beyond 350 miles per hour.

The knighted Englishman, slender and looking anything but 48 years, is recovering so rapidly from an attack of influenza that he can see no reason for postponing the launch of his monstrous Bluebird II on the Florida sands February 10.

READY TO GO.
"I'm a bit weak and slack," he said regretfully, as he chatted about the inner Aquitania coming up the bay, "and everything is too much trouble. But I expect all that to pass in a day or so. I'm ready to drive as soon as beach conditions warrant."

When he boarded the Aquitania last Wednesday, Sir Malcolm had a high temperature and quite a "nippy" case of influenza. He was confined to his stateroom until Saturday but has recovered rapidly since.

Smilingly, Campbell dodged a direct answer to all queries as to the speed he expected to attain this year in his assault on the world record he set at 206.9 in 1925, lifted to 248.8 in 1931 and established beyond any but his own challenge at 253.968 last year.

"Your guess is as good as mine really," he said. "I haven't any idea what speed Bluebird can make. The horsepower has been increased from 1,450 to 2,000, the weight increased, and she has more resistance. I haven't driven her since she was rebuilt."

SEES NEW RECORD.
"But, of course," he added with a grin, "I shouldn't be here, you know, if I didn't think I could break the record."

There were indications galore, however, that he has expectations of exceeding at least 265 miles an hour in continuing the speed supremacy Great Britain still maintains on land and in the air, although Gar Wood broke her domination of the water by beating Kaye Don's speed boat record last year.

Sir Malcolm said he saw no limit to the speed an automobile could attain, provided the forward progress of the car was not hampered by engines and stream-lining. He said his tires were tested to hold safely at 300 miles an hour.

FOUR-WHEEL DRIVE.
"Eventually a four-wheel drive car will be built with much greater power, and the spread of that power to both ends will increase traction well. Such a car, under good weather and beach conditions, should exceed an hour's present record by 100 miles an hour," he said.

"But such tiny factors become so important at great speeds," he pointed out. "Badly made tires, for example, might bring about a fraction of a second on the throttle, a wheel slip where the traction is concentrated on the rear wheels, or the loss of a bit of a skid, any of these could cost just enough speed to prevent a new record."

Another companion of Sir Malcolm here by several days is at Daytona Beach, Campbell leaves tonight with his chief mechanic, Harry Leech, a survivor of the 1931 record attempt, to make a test run of the Bluebird on a French hillside several years ago. Another companion is Captain R. A. Grosvenor, who flew with Sir Malcolm during the World War, and who shored off for the steam engine of the Bluebird during the British general strike in 1926.

Wainwright, Stelling Wed
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Helen Wainwright, former Olympic swimming champion, is en route to Shreveport, La., her family said tonight, to marry the son of a friend, a Lieutenant Charles Stelling, of Brooks Field, Texas, former Georgia football player.

The couple met in Chattanooga, Tenn., five years ago and they have been engaged for several weeks. Stelling's home is in Augusta, Ga., but he is now stationed at Brooks Field in the aviation service.

He will take his bride to Texas after the ceremony.

News of the approaching marriage of Miss Helen Wainwright, Olympic champion, to Cree Stelling, former Georgia football player and an Augusta boy, appeared first in The Constitution last week. Stelling graduated from Georgia in the spring of 1929 and went immediately into the air service.

Atlanta Is Promised Sunday Ball, In Case--

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Presidents of all Southern association baseball clubs have agreed to give Atlanta "full co-operation in arranging Sunday games. John D. Martin, league president, said tonight.

Mr. Martin denied newspaper reports which said that each club will sacrifice one Sunday date in the event that Sunday baseball is legalized in Georgia. Such a policy would throw the entire schedule out of line, he said. The agreement made was similar to one through which Birmingham got Sunday dates late last season.

As an aid to the league, Mr. Martin said he voluntarily took a $1,500 a year reduction in salary. His contract calls for $10,000.

Here With Alabama

Frank Thomas, former assistant at Georgia and now head coach at Alabama, will be in Atlanta today with the basketball team of his institution. Thomas' football team closed out the season as one of the strongest in the south.

Neyland's Engineering Kept Him at Tennessee
Vol Coach Looks Forward to Another Good Team; Talks With F. D. Roosevelt.

By Jimmy Jones.
Major Bob Neyland has just passed up a big chance to go to Fordham as the head football coach of that institution and admits that he may live to regret it. He believes the New York school is destined to become the "Notre Dame" in eastern football and that when it does, the coach's salary there will be one of the largest in the country.

Major Neyland is too much wrapped up in his engineering work in behalf of the government's Muscle Shoals development project to worry much about the opportunity which he passed up a short time ago, leaving the field to Jimmy Crowley, of Michigan State.

The Fordham job is a good one, and the major admitted he would have liked very much to have had it, but there is a force as strong—perhaps stronger—than that of football which keeps him in Tennessee. It is his hobby, and for which Bob Neyland eventually will retire from coaching to devote all of his time.

GREAT ENGINEER.
Next to football, it is the thing nearest his heart today. And, incidentally, Bob Neyland is one of the great engineers in the country. He had just returned from a conference with President-elect Roosevelt at Muscle Shoals when the writer talked with him in his Chattanooga office Monday. And it was hard to tell if his subject claimed most of his enthusiasm—football or engineering.

Neyland plans to remain in Tennessee indefinitely, or until his governmental duties call him elsewhere. He likes the chance to be outdoors, which his job as engineer-in-chief for all government projects on the Tennessee river gives him. The government furnishes him with a big motor boat with which he explores the river and its tributaries. Had he gone to Fordham, he revealed, he would have had to give up all this and confine his engineering to office detail.

"I believe every man should have both a vocation and an avocation; mine are football and engineering, respectively," the major said with a smile. For the two jobs he commands handsome salaries, which he richly deserves. He is a marked success in both branches.

CONTINUES PLANS.
Major Neyland said he was going ahead with plans for his next year's football team at Tennessee, where he has had nothing but winners for several years. He believes his team will be good next fall, provided he can find two tackles to stack up to the caliber of Captain Malcolm Aiken and Franklin, two regulars who will be lost. He also loses Frank, a star guard, and Rayburn, a fine end, but returns practically all of his backfield including Pat Patterson.

Wynn Brackett, Robinson and Middleton, his most dependable backs of last year.

The Tennessee coach studies football the year around. He can be found any time during leisure moments drawing diagrams of plays. He invents most of these and every spring carries from 50 to 100 new ones to Knoxville, where he commutes, maintaining his offices in Chattanooga. "I usually throw away all of these except one or two which seem to work pretty well," he said.

Major Neyland said he would like very much to play Tech some day, and predicted a game of $50,000 any time the two teams met. Duke got the date which Tennessee wanted this year.

HAMAS RECOVERS.
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Steve Hamas, promising young heavyweight who has been idle for several months with an injured knee, is ready for action again. He has tentatively accepted an offer to box the winner of Thursday night's bout between King Levinsky and Unknown Winston at Philadelphia.

Major Neyland said he would like very much to play Tech some day, and predicted a game of $50,000 any time the two teams met. Duke got the date which Tennessee wanted this year.

Four Kayoes On Smithie Program
Harold Bridges, 135, knocked out Ray Ethridge, 135, in the first round of a three-round bout at the Henry Grady auditorium last night. It was the second of a series of elimination bouts to determine Tech High boxing champions.

Charles Gaddis, 118, won an easy technical knockout over Pat Thompson in the first round.

J. C. McCleskey, 126, won a technical knockout over J. C. Crawford, 123, in the second round.

C. B. Allen, 118, substituting for Jim Gravit, also won a technical knockout over Dick Drummond, 115, in the second round.

James Spears, 143, outpointed Thurman Ataway, 141.

Ed Killingsworth, 108, beat W. S. Hutchison, 108, in an old-fashioned slugfest match.

The fights were not as interesting as last week's fight due to the one-sided matches. The semi-finals will be held next Friday night at the Henry Grady court and should prove very interesting, since the winners will be matched in the finals.

SAYS IT'S BEST TO LEAVE RULES ALONE THIS YEAR

Only Thing Needed Is Clarification of Some. Leaves Tomorrow.

By Ralph McGill.
Coach W. A. Alexander, director of athletics and head football coach at Georgia Tech, will leave tomorrow for New York to attend the annual rules meeting of the football board.

And Mr. Alexander goes committed to vote against any changes in the rules. Especially is he against the proposed rule which would permit the throwing of a forward pass from any point back of the line of scrimmage instead of five yards back as is now required.

"I think the best thing to do is to let the rules alone this year," he said. "There might be some clarification on some points but no changes are needed."

SOMETHING'S UP.
When asked about the proposed change in the forward pass rule, Mr. Alexander delivered himself of an epigram. "When football coaches want to change a rule there is usually some ulterior motive," he said.

And it does appear that Lou Little, who would change the rule, has some thing in view. It must be that he has two stout, elusive halfbacks. Because the pass rule, as proposed, would open more holes in the defense than one finds in an old-fashioned blunder.

"The defense has enough trouble with passes now. With a fellow to toss them from any spot the defense would be stewing in its own juice all afternoon."

"Here's what would happen," said Mr. Alexander. "The defense now has to drop back some. But knows that the fellow, if faking a pass, will have to run back a bit. If allowed to throw a pass from any spot, the defense could take the ball, rush to the line and then, as the secondary pulled in, toss a pass. If it didn't pull in he could slip through a hole and go galloping."

DEFENSE IS LOST.
"It would make it almost impossible to set a defense. The team with a good elusive halfback could gain ground almost at will. I think something like that is behind most rules proposed by coaches. They have something up their sleeve for the next season."

Coach Alexander is a member of the committee of 20 which recommends rules desired by coaches. It is very probable that Lou Little's desires will be set upon in this committee. Most coaches get the jitters when the forward pass is mentioned.

And anything which would cause the pass to come shooting out of nowhere, like shells from a hidden trench mortar, would cause them to have the country jitters, which are much worse than the jitters or nerves of the players. When one has the country jitters he wants lots of open space for screaming.

FEW CHANGES.
Coach Alexander expects few, if any changes. The rules made last season reduced injuries considerably. A few clarifications are needed. But no new rules.

When he returns Coach Alexander will review about his spring training. There will be no changes in the Alexander system, which I have nicknamed the "Horse Sense System." He did very well with last year's style and since the material for next season fits it again he will use same.

The training begins February 20. He contemplates no coaching changes.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(AP)—C. V. Whitney's Equipoise, holder of a world's record for one mile of 1:34.25, is still considered the best thoroughbred in America by W. S. Vosburgh, veteran handicapper for the New York track.

In the horse world today for the historic Metropolitan Handicap, which will be run during the spring meeting at Belmont Park, Vosburgh assigned the five-year-old gelding to the best weight of 129 pounds, five more than James Butler's Questionnaire. Equipoise won the race last year.

Walter W. Beatawain, a son of Man O' War and winner of the 1932 Wither's mile, is rated third w. 127 pounds. A. C. Bostwick's Mate, a disappointing last year after winning several of the rich 1931 three-year-old stakes, was assigned 119 pounds.

Rex Enright Awaits Word
ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 31.—Rex Enright, Georgia backfield and basketball coach who is being considered for the position of head coach at Michigan State, indicated tonight that no date had been set for him to confer with athletic officials of East Lansing.

Michigan State athletic officials have been considering the Georgia coach for several weeks, following the resignation of Jimmy Crowley, who was backfield coach at Georgia when he accepted the Michigan State job in 1928. H. J. Stegman, Georgia director of athletics, wrote East Lansing officials some time ago, after they had requested permission to negotiate with Enright. Stegman also recommended Crowley to Michigan State.

Coach Enright will leave Friday with the Georgia basketball team for Maryland and Virginia, where the Bulldogs will play three games before returning to Athens.

Brotherly Love Costs Duke Guard
DURHAM, N. C., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Brotherly love and the spirit of finances cost the Duke basketball team a star guard today when Fred Lewis withdrew from school in order to visit his brother, Henry, also a star member of the Blue Devil quint, might continue his scholastic and athletic career.

With enough money only for one of them to matriculate for the second semester, Fred, the elder, turned in his basketball uniform and dropped out of school.

Phillips Is Sought By Tennessee Five
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 31.—(AP)—The Times says the University of Tennessee hopes to secure Humphrey Phillips, University of Chattanooga coach for 1934-35.

Tennessee now is coached by W. H. Britton. The paper says Britton has another year to serve under his contract.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Millions of individuals will be required to file income tax returns under the revenue act of 1932 who were not required to file returns under the prior revenue act.

Returns are required of every unmarried or single person whose net income for 1932 was $1,000 or over or whose gross income for that year was $5,000 or over regardless of net income. Widowers, widows, divorcees, and married persons separated from husband or wife are classed as single persons. If a husband and wife living together had an aggregate net income for 1932 of $2,500 or more, each must make a return, or the income of both must be included in a single joint return.

Read Instructions.
In order to avoid errors, the bureau of internal revenue urges careful reading of the instructions on the forms before a return is prepared and filed. Additional information, if needed, may be obtained at the office of a collector of internal revenue or deputy collector, or of an internal revenue agent.

March 15 Deadline.
Under the law returns must be filed on or before March 15, 1933, with the tax collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer has his legal residence or principal place of business. At the time of filing, at least one-fourth of the tax must be paid. The taxpayer may, if he desires, pay in full at the time of filing.

The act imposes severe penalties for failure to file a return or pay the tax on time. For any failure to file a return on time which is not due to a reasonable cause, a penalty of 25 per cent of the amount of the tax is imposed. In addition, more severe penalties are provided for willful failure to file a return on time and for willfully making a false or fraudulent return.

Limitation on Stock Losses.
Certain new provisions are contained in the revenue act of 1932 under the above-mentioned heading limiting the deduction for losses sustained on the sale or exchange of stocks and bonds which are not capital assets—that is, which have not been held for a period of more than two years. In accordance with the limitations, such losses may be deducted only against gains from similar transactions for the year, although the amount of the excess of such loss disallowed as a deduction for the year 1932 may be carried forward and taken as a deduction against gains from similar transactions (gains from sales or exchanges of stocks and bonds held for two years or less) for the succeeding year to the extent of the taxpayer's net income for the year 1932.

The above-mentioned limitation is in general applicable to all taxpayers. By the terms of the statute, however, the limitation does not apply to dealers in securities as to stocks and bonds acquired for resale to customers or to banks or trust companies incorporated under the laws of the United States or of any state or territory.

In defining "stocks and bonds" for the purpose of such limitation the statute specifically excludes therefrom bonds issued by a government or political subdivision thereof. Such exclusion not only includes bonds issued by the government of the United States or a state or political subdivision thereof, but also includes bonds issued by a foreign country or foreign municipality. It therefore follows that the deduction for losses sustained on the sale or exchange of such bonds is not subject to such limitation.

Items Exempt From Tax.
Certain items are specifically exempt from the income tax and need not be included in the taxpayer's return for the purpose of determining gross income. Among such items are the proceeds from life insurance policies paid upon the death of the insured; amounts received as gifts, bequests, devises, or inheritances; interest on municipal bonds, state bonds, bonds issued by the possessions of the United States, federal farm loan bonds, and certain bonds issued by the United States government; and amounts received through accident or health insurance or under workmen's compensation acts for personal injuries or sickness and damage received on account of such injuries or sickness.

All types of compensation received by a veteran or his family, under the World War veterans act, 1924, are exempt from federal income tax, and to the extent that such compensation is paid under the provisions of that act, exemption also applies to all types of compensation received by a veteran or his family under the provisions of the war-risk insurance and vocational rehabilitation acts. Pensions received from the United States by the family of a veteran for services rendered by the veteran to the United States in time of war, are exempt as gifts. The rental value of a dwelling house and appurtenances thereof furnished to a minister of the gospel, as part of his compensation, is also excluded from gross income. Other items excluded are alimony, notary fees if the notary was commissioned by a state, and city jury fees.

FLORIDA COURT FREES 9 ALLEGED FLOGGERS

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Declaring the state had failed to produce sufficient evidence, Criminal Court Judge J. M. Peeler today directed verdicts of not guilty in the trials of nine alleged floggers, indicted in connection with the recent whipping of two men here.

C. C. Rabb, W. A. Jackson, Horace Starling and Oscar Bessent were freed in their trial for the alleged whipping of Smith Kelly last October 13, and Jackson, Bessent, J. L. Nettles, J. C. Godwin and Hugh Laseter were exonerated in the beating of A. R. Berg on September 11. Rabb, his brother, E. M. Rabb, Jackson, Starling and L. C. Bowers, were acquitted last night on charges of aggravated assault, growing out of the recent flogging of Ola Bell Gilstrap, and her mother, Mrs. Sally Geringer.

INCOME AND SALES TAX URGED FOR ALABAMA

Miller Advocates Latter Levy Only as Temporary Measure.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 31.—(AP)—A state income tax, a sales tax to be effective until receipts from other sources make it unnecessary, and an issue of interest-bearing bonds or warrants to pay off immediately the state's estimated $20,000,000 floating debt were recommended by Governor B. M. Miller today in his message to the Alabama legislature, assembled in joint session.

The governor devoted the greater part of his message to his advocacy of the state income tax amendment, and agreed to the sales tax only as a "temporary emergency measure," to continue effective until the state obtains "sufficient revenue to make the further collection unnecessary."

The governor placed the state's floating debt at $20,000,000. These debts "cannot be paid by economy and efficient government," he said. "You have economized; you have abolished offices, and you have reduced appropriations. Still the appropriations exceed the revenue by over $20,000,000 annually."

The second possibility considered was the sales tax, which Governor Miller told the legislators should be adopted only as an emergency measure. "If this plan should be enacted into law, it should be known as a consumers' tax," he declared.

'BAMA LEGISLATURE WILL HEAR DEBATE

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 31.—(AP)—The house of the Alabama legislature today adopted a motion authorizing a committee of three to seek to arrange a prohibition debate between Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and some outstanding advocate of prohibition repeal. The motion was offered by Representative Tom Arrington, of Montgomery. Speaker Alf. Tunstall, of Greensboro, named Representatives Arrington, John Morrow, of Jefferson, and Earl McGowan, of Butler, as the committee.

Harrison, of Marengo, introduced a bill levying 5 per cent on the gross retail sales and 10 per cent on amusements, while in the senate a bill to submit to the voters a constitutional amendment to authorize an issue of $20,000,000 in interest-bearing certificates to retire current warrants.

Chinese Plan To Move Treasures From Peiping

PEIPING, China, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Apparently disturbed by the political outlook in North China, directors of the Palace Museum in the Forbidden City have assembled 3,000 cases of art treasures for secret and strong guarded shipment by railway to Nanking and Shanghai.

The shipment will consist mostly of bronzes, porcelain and state papers of the Manchou dynasty, with a quantity of priceless books, including a monumental encyclopedia which runs into hundreds of volumes.

INFLATION PRINCIPLE IS OPPOSED BY FORT

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Inflation of currency is opposed by Franklin W. Fort, of Washington, chairman of the federal home loan bank board, who urges public support of banks, building and loan associations and similar institutions for economic improvement. "If theorists will cease to scare lenders with indiscriminate talk of currency inflation," he told a club group here yesterday, "and if the public encourages lending institutions which borrow freely from reserve sources, instead of running from them as if they had the plague, we will soon see the end of the depression."

Following Operation Baby Dies of Pneumonia

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Eugene Robert Viola, who at the age of five days, survived an operation to prevent him from starving to death, died of pneumonia. Ten days ago doctors performed an operation to make an opening between the infant's stomach and intestine. He was born, doctors said, without the usual opening. The child apparently was recovering from the operation when pneumonia developed, causing his death yesterday.

DELAWARE'S DRY LAW REPEALED BY SENATE

DOVER, Del., Jan. 31.—(AP)—The state senate today voted 10 to 7 for repeal of the Klair law, the state prohibition enforcement act, completing legislative action on the proposal. The measure, passed yesterday by the house, now goes to Governor C. Douglass Buck, who is expected to sign it. The Klair law, which carried a provision prohibiting physicians from prescribing liquor to patients, was in effect shortly after the eighteenth amendment became effective in 1920.

THE ORIGINAL BARBER WAY

ILLUSION:
The stage is all set for target practice. The magician lifts his bow and aims an arrow at the bull's-eye. His lovely assistant then steps in front of the target and he shoots the arrow—apparently through her—and it fixes itself in the very center of the bull's-eye! And she smiles through it all while the audience gasps!

EXPLANATION:
The arrow which the marksman "shoots through" his assistant simply folds up into the crossbow! The arrow which is actually embedded in the target is shot by the girl herself from a belt concealed under her dress. She releases a little spring and the arrow shoots straight into the bull's-eye! It is all done in a flash! So quickly the eye cannot detect the girl's movements! To heighten the impression that the arrow has gone right through, the girl releases a ribbon from the front of her dress—the continuation, apparently, of the ribbon attached to the arrow in the target.

It's fun to be fooled — ...it's more fun to KNOW

Like to see through tricks? Then let's look at another... the illusion in cigarette advertising called "Cigarettes and Your Throat."

The audience is told that by certain magic processes tobacco can be made as soothing as cough medicine.

EXPLANATION: The easiest cigarette on your throat is the cigarette that is made from the choicest ripe tobaccos. Cheap, raw tobaccos are, as you would naturally expect, harsh in their effects upon the throat. If you have to consider your throat, the quality of the tobacco in your cigarette is important.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Camels are as non-irritating as a cigarette can be because Camels use choice, ripe, costlier tobaccos.

And because of the matchless blending of these costlier tobaccos Camels have a rich bouquet and aroma... a cool, delicious flavor. Keep the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack on your Camels... to assure yourself and your companions a fresh, cool smoke.

Atlanta League of Women Voters Will Honor Regional Director

Mrs. Ruth McKelway, of Washington, D. C., member of the staff of the National League of Women Voters and regional director of the third district, will be the guest of the Atlanta League of Women Voters Thursday, February 2. Mrs. McKelway will visit the local headquarters of the Atlanta league in the morning, be the guest of the league officers at lunch, and the central figure at a reception tendered her in the committee rooms of the league, at 74 Whitehall street, in the afternoon from 3 to 4:30 o'clock.

Mrs. W. L. Hunnicutt, chairman of hospitality, will be assisted by the chairmen of the standing committees, the staff and the ward chairmen. The board members will act as hostesses. The officers will be decorated with the posters of the league. A short talk will be given by Mrs. Leonard Haas, Mrs. J. H. Weiss and Mrs. Ronald Pentecost, based on what happened during a busy day in the office, and showing the work carried on by volunteer workers.

Mrs. McKelway will speak on "The Relation of the Local League to the National Organization." Tea will be served. Sharing honors with Mrs. McKelway will be Mrs. Susan T. Moore, of Tifton, Ga., the only state woman senator, and Mrs. Helen Coxon, of Long county, and Mrs. William DeLoach, of Muscogee county, state representatives. Members of the Atlanta league and any interested friends are welcome.

The first of a series of classes sponsored by the Atlanta League of Women Voters begins Wednesday, February 1, at 8 o'clock, at the Candler hotel, led by Mrs. J. D. Swagerty. The class is known as "Class A."

Mrs. R. S. McKelway Will Speak Here

Mrs. Ruth S. McKelway, director of the League of Women Voters for the third region and president of the league in the District of Columbia, will address the board of the Georgia league at its February meeting at 10:30 o'clock today at the Candler hotel, in Decatur. The following women are expected to attend this meeting: Mesdames W. L. Hunnicutt, Mesdames L. L. Hendren and John Morris, of Athens; Mesdames J. C. Bonar White, Otto W. Carpenter, J. O. Marquis, E. L. Manning, Francis Dwyer, Augustus M. Roan, of Atlanta; Mrs. J. H. Downey, Gainesville; Mrs. H. C. Fisher, Clayton; Mrs. Sandy B. Carter, Toccoa; Mrs. Lamar Rutherford Lipscomb, Lakewood; Mrs. Mary Harris, Armory, Commerce; and Miss Sally Fanny Gleason, Conyers.

Presidents of local leagues are invited to attend board meetings and to bring to the conference the problems that are common to all and are urged to share with other leagues plans and methods that have proved to be effective. As the legislative session opens, Mrs. McKelway, legislative chairman, will lead a discussion on bills of interest to the league, particularly Dr. Park's program, which includes the revision of the state constitution by amendments rather than by calling a constitutional convention.

Miss Roberta Hodgson, of the University of Georgia, will discuss the cause and cure of war held in Washington January 17-20, will report on the findings of the conference. A luncheon in honor of the state board and its guests will be given by the DeKalb league at 1 o'clock and reservations may be made by calling Dearborn 5921-W.

Officers' Training Day for W. M. S.

More than 150 leading church women attended the officers' training day of the Atlanta district of the W. M. S. held at Grace church, Thursday, and presided over by Mrs. E. W. Good, district secretary.

Besides a stirring devotional led by Dr. W. A. Shelton, pastor of the church, and a message from Mrs. Good concerning the progress of the work, an impressive pledge service was conducted by Mrs. E. R. Brodgon, conference chairman. A luncheon of 41 auxiliaries, representing a membership of more than 5,000 members.

Instruction classes were conducted by Mrs. M. E. Tully, Mrs. C. C. Jarrell, Miss Daisy Davies, Mrs. A. G. Maxwell, Mrs. D. R. Little, Mrs. J. C. White, Mrs. Virlyn Moore, Mrs. J. C. Russell and Mrs. E. W. Brodgon.

Damosch Club

The juvenile division of Damosch Junior Club of Kennesaw, Mrs. E. J. Yarbrough, counselor, met with Mrs. J. D. Leubert, 102 Rockford road, N. E., Saturday. Miss Catherine Ledbetter, president, presided.

Plans solos were played by Jean Grant and Elizabeth Ledbetter. A dance was given by Virginia Hendry. Songs were sung by Jane Grant and Eddie Jean Preece.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. C. Grant, 219 Warren street, N. E.

MORRIS GETS PLACE WITH LARGE CONCERN

F. F. Talley, state manager of the Fidelity Investment Association, of Wheeling, W. Va., announced on Tuesday that John Morris Jr. had joined the Atlanta organization.

Mr. Morris was for many years a member of the firm of the Keely Company, a native of Atlanta, he graduated from the high school and after two years' study in Ireland attended Mercer University.

The Fidelity Association is 21 years old and is said to be the oldest of its kind in the country. John W. Pole, controller of the currency, is president, and Merle Thorpe, editor of the Nation's Business, and other well-known men are directors.

The company has expanded from $63,000 capital in 1911 to $25,000,000 today. It plans to expand its Atlanta branch, making it southeastern headquarters.

The Bonus for Part-Score

One of the revolutionary methods in Duplicate is the awarding of a bonus of 100 points for the making of a part-score. In the opinion of qualified authorities, this change will tend to almost revolutionize the game, particularly in board-a-match play.

A hand played in the team-of-four event of the recent tournament of the American Bridge League is an example of methods of experts with the part-score bonus. The hand gave Mr. Waldemar von Zedwitz, former president of the American Bridge League, an opportunity to display his skill.

Someone to Love

—by Vernie Connelly—

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING

After Kay Bishop's roadster crashes into June Varick's coupe on Pilot Knob in the Ozarks, both girls are attended in June's home in the near-by town of Rolla by June's father, Dr. Varick. Kay's arm and June's leg are broken. Kay's brother, Bruce, who is 26 and five years older than Kay, is her guardian. Before their mother's death, he promised her he will not allow Kay to marry Ramon Invidia, an impoverished young Italian. If Kay marries without Bruce's consent before she is 21 her part of the large Bishop fortune goes to charity. Bruce has always laughed at love. June is lame when the splints are removed. Dr. Varick dies suddenly as he is about to take her to New York to the famous Dr. Henderson, his classmate. June goes to New York later and he operates successfully. Bruce tells Kay he loves her but asks her to wait until he is sure of himself. He takes her to Kay's New Year's Eve party at the city's Ritz hotel. June, who is wearing a costume of her own design, leaves the night club and disappears. She is wearing a fortune in jewels. Bruce goes to Italy to investigate. In the lobby of her hotel, June snatches a vial of poison from the hand of Bartley Hart, San Francisco architect, who is despondent because his wife divorced him. He does take poison the next day. June phones Mrs. Hart, who spends each by plane, and she and Bartley are to marry. This gives June and Mr. Linder, manager of the hotel, an idea: catering to longshore hotel guests—he proposes that she become hostess of the Gilmore's "Between Six and Seven Club," the loneliest hour of the hotel guest's day. Now go on with the story.

INSTALLMENT XXII.

Two of Grady's publicity stories during the week, with June's picture, helped increase the patronage. She was immediately identified with the Bishop case, and a number of outsiders came through curiosity. Saturday night there was a capacity crowd.

June went to bed very tired and a little sad. The Harts were gone, and she would miss them a great deal.

A letter from Bruce came up with her breakfast tray in the morning. Noncommittal. He had avoided discovery on the voyage. Had a good rest. Would cable her when he sailed on his return. Take care of herself. He missed her.

"Nothing in that to make a girl get hysterical with hope," she thought for an angry second. Then, as quickly, "Dear Bruce—I love him so much."

June was an immediate success as president of the Between Six and Seven Club.

SALLY'S SALLIES

The only time some people do a job thoroughly is when they make perfect fools of themselves.

JUST NUTS

I USED TO WORK AT A WHARF AND WAS IN NEED ANYONE CHARGE OF A CRANE!

Seven Club. Everybody liked her. During the day many sought her acquaintance, and some her advice. Linder had to give her an office where she could interview people for an hour or two in the afternoon. Without effort, and with natural ability, it seemed, she took over the reins of social hostess for the hotel, extending her activities in many directions besides the club.

There was dancing in the Fountain room. It was a rather nice place. June thought, with three tiers ascending from the dance floor, and the orchestra back of the fountain. They had a fair dinner crowd, but were anxious to build up their supper patronage. Centrally located, they should draw from the theaters.

Grady said they were missing a bet by not having June up there in evening dress. She was so beautiful and delightfully naive, he pointed out, that she would be a hit—something new to New York. Linder sent for her. "Grady thinks you ought to act as hostess in the Fountain room for the theater crowd. What do you think about it?"

"I don't see a good reason for it." "Some of the smartest things in life are without rhyme or reason—did you ever think of that? Now, I'm looking at it from the other person's point of view. I'd have to have water, for instance, and decided to go to the Gilmore hotel, with my lady friend, to sup and dance in the Fountain room—and when I showed up at the entrance, if a beautiful girl with a drawl voice and a radiant smile said how-do-you-do, come in and have a good time—well, do you know I think I'd like it—and I'd remember the place—so I'd be almost certain to go back. Or perhaps, if I lost out on the evening this beautiful girl could stop at my table and ask me if I was having a good time, I'd go away with happier memories."

"That's all right for your side of it, Mr. Linder. But suppose the girl who was with you didn't react in the same way?"

"Now let's not be too analytical. You have to take life as it comes, unless you can do something about it. Suppose you put on your most beguiling evening frock and give the Fountain room a whirl. It will be decidedly different, I promise, from down there."

June was always good-natured and when she saw Linder had his heart set on extending her duties along more sophisticated lines, she agreed. As for evening clothes, she was not equipped. She examined the status of her bank account with some anxiety. Perhaps she could risk a hundred dollars. Maybe if she shopped cleverly she could get two dresses for that. She'd have to be very careful, though, for she was going to be very conspicuous and nothing tawdry would do.

This new adventure turned out as well as the club. She found it rather intriguing. All she had to do was make herself as lovely as possible, and be friendly with people. She made no effort to be other than her natural self.

Oh, sure, she'd concede, "I'm from Missouri, but it's been a right smart while since I've been home. No, honestly, I don't know what that 'show me' business means. I reckon the rest of the country knows more about it than we do."

Perhaps she did emphasize the colloquial in her speech a trifle more than usual; but this was done, as a rule, to offset some woman's exaggerated New Yorkness.

A columnist, happening to hear something of the sort one night, retailed it with colorful emphasis. Soon news of the girl from Missouri got about. Her popularity was accelerated, of course, by the fact that she was high-lighted in one of the most spectacular mysteries of the year.

If the girl could only sing!—exclaimed Linder. "She'd be a million-dollar asset."

"How do you know she can't?" Grady asked.

"I don't know, but I have a little common sense."

"Get her in here and ask her."

"Have you got time to kid? That's what it amounts to."

"Listen, I've got a hunch I know she's not a Galli Curci—but this Missouri business is a good guess—did you notice how it caught on? All you have to do is sit a columnist onto something of the sort and sit back while he works you."

June came in from her office, next door to Linder's, when he sent for her. She laughed delightedly at Grady's preposterous question.

"Of course I can't sing! I wish I could," June told Grady.

"Can't you even carry a tune? I can have plenty of songs written to suit your voice," the publicity man urged.

"But I haven't any voice! I sang in church, of course—everybody does in so small towns. Aside from that, all I ever sang were some old songs my mother used to sing for dad. I'd sing them when no one was around, just to please him—and old Chloë—she was mother's Virginia nigger—she'd stand in the hall and boo hoo—you know how dorkies are."

"What were the songs—give us an idea."

"Don't be silly! Just sentimental old things that people in New York would laugh about..."

"You never can tell," came on—just one, Miss Varick urged Linder. He was beginning to get Grady's idea.

June flushed. She had to go back to her office. People were waiting. "All right—here is a sample. I think it's called 'Someone to Love Me.' She had a throaty, low-pitched voice and invested the words with a ringing sincerity."

TARZAN THE UNTAMED No. 195

With all her strength, the Red spy drove the spear deep into the panther's savage breast. Tarzan arose from the panther's lifeless body and shook himself after the manner of wild beasts. He looked at the girl, a quizzical expression upon his face.
